APPEAL

ON BEHALF OF FAMINE-STRICKEN IRELAND.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, MEMBERS OF THE Relief Committee, appeal to the ever-charitable citizens of Vancouver Island of all creeds and nationalities, but especially to the sons and daughters of poor, suffering Ireland.

It is quite unnecessary to draw the sad picture of the sufferings that are in store during this season for a great portion of that unfortunate and helpless Island. A cry of sympathy has risen in every land and all agree that private charity alone can partially alleviate Ireland's imminent calamities.

His Lordship Bishop Brondel, at Christmas noon service, made the initial start towards relief. A collection-box will be placed in the Church during the services until the 21st of January, the amount of which will be at once forwarded to the Archbishop of Dublin, who, as it is well known, distributes such gifts impartially to all who are in need.

In order, however, to extend to all the opportunity of saving from starvation their own unfortunate countrymen or fellowmen, we, members of the Relief Committee, will collect or receive subscriptions during the month of January and remit the amount through the same channel.

P. McTIERNAN,
HENRY SHORT, } Committee.

ENGLAND'S TASK IN AFGHANISTAN.

The Times maintains that "the great purpose of the Afghan war has been amply attained. India has been made safe within and without. There is no disturbance now to be feared in either direction; no looking to Russia as the rising Power in the East, or as likely to give effectual help to any insurrectionary movement against England; no anxiety as to the chances of an attack upon what had long been felt to be the ungarded frontier line. What, it may be asked, remains to be done that we need greatly care about? To break down the armed resistance of Afghanistan may be the work of a few weeks or of a few months. This task completed, we have no further concern with the country than to make sure that we are threatened with no danger from it. We come back, in effect, to the point at which we stood when the Treaty of Gundamuk was signed. The events of the troubled interval are no more than an interruption of the regular course of our work. The aim of our policy should be the same now as then. The danger which this country is beginning to apprehend is not that the Government has any settled purpose of annexing Afghanistan, but rather that it has no settled purpose at all, and that it may suffer itself to drift into doing what it has not resolved on, and would rather avoid if it could. If the matter is to be left in the hands of subordinates, and if a direction is to be taken which they may prove to be in favor of, the prospect is far from clear. England may find herself involved in a mesh of circumstances from which she will not be able to break free. Large political considerations, which ought to be paramount, will be in danger of being set aside and forgotten. These it is for the Home Government to insist upon. The choice of means may be entrusted to mere agents. The choice of ends it is for the supreme directing power to make. The internal organization of Afghanistan is a question which may be best left for the Afghans to pronounce upon. India will give its friendly countenance to any decent Government they may set up, but more than this India need not promise or make herself in any way responsible for."

THE TORNADO.

The accounts we give of the tornado at Portland on Friday last did not come to hand until yesterday. For the extract from the Telegram we are indebted to Capt. PRITCHARD, who received the cutting in a private letter. The communication from our special correspondent was entrusted to private hands and did not reach us till yesterday morning. The gale must have been widespread in its disastrous effects. It will be remembered that in this city on Friday afternoon last the barometer suddenly dropped to 28:60, and that for a few hours a wind storm of much severity prevailed in this locale. On the same date the steamship Empire, on her way to this port from San Francisco, experienced a gale when off Columbia river of 12 hours' duration, and the glass fell to 28:40. Shipping must have suffered severely. Our correspondent reports the steamship Elder disabled, proceeding up Columbia river in tow of a tug on Saturday morning. At least two men were frozen to death near the line of railway, and a railway train in Washington Territory was snowed under and abandoned. The loss of life in the track of the great storm has, we fear, been heavy.

THE DAKOTA BLIZZARD.

A Father Lost in an Effort to Save His Children--Two Children Perish on their Way Home.

Carl Belau, a German, with his family, were living in a shanty belonging to another man on Section 10, township 143, range 50, something less than a mile from the place they were preparing for a home. The man had completed a stable, and his house was ready to move into. They commenced to move Saturday, and were drawing their goods on a hand-sleigh, leaving their stove behind to be taken over the next trip. When within about one hundred steps of the house the woman was taken ill, and the two youngest boys, aged 18 months, and 3½ years, were left wrapped in a blanket, and put in a dry goods box, while the man helped his wife and two other children to the house. They got the woman in bed when the girl and the boy were beginning to freeze, and they were put in bed with their mother. By this time it began to get dark, and when the man started out for the children left behind, his wife begged him not to go, as the children were lost, and he would freeze. He could not think of leaving them without making an effort, so he started, and had reached the box when he was frozen, and died on the spot. The woman gave birth to a child that night, and on Sunday night it died. She laid in bed without any fire, or food to eat, until Monday noon, when she got up and managed by some means to reach the house of Mr. Gage, about one and one-half miles distant. Search was then made and the man was found lying on his back, near the box which contained the bodies of his two boys. It is reported that Mr. Betau had loaned $65 to some man, and was unable to get it, or he would have had everything made comfortable before the cold weather came on. Sheriff Haggart, with his usual true generosity and kindness, sent some flour and provisions to the woman, who still remains at the house of Mr. Gage. Deputy Sheriff Hammes returned last night with the girl and boy, who were badly frozen, but will probably recover.

Among the reports of accidents during the late blizzard, the Argus is pained to learn of the sad death of George Owens, aged nineteen, and Evans Sheriff of our neighboring county of Richland. Last Saturday they were visiting a neighbor, in company with their grand-father, and when they were ready to go home, the old gentleman told them to remain where they were overnight. They insisted upon starting, however, and were allowed to do so. They were found next day, half way home, frozen to death.

ENRAGED GIRLS.

Expelled from School, They Lay in Wait and Murder Their Schoolmate.

A dispatch from Hagerstown, Indiana, of the 24th ultimo, says:—A murder occurred near a country schoolhouse between Antwerp and Williamsburg, this (Wayne) county, about two weeks since, which in the past day or two has come to light. The matter is of interest to the general reader, and in substance is as follows:—A young girl named Kates, about fifteen years old, was the victim of the tragedy, and two young girls, schoolmates, about the same age, were the perpetrators of the crime. The names of these girls your correspondent's informant could not remember. Miss Kates was the daughter of a poor widow, and was very good-natured. On account of her poverty the girls above mentioned, daughters of wealthy parents, were continually playing little tricks upon her. Miss Kates being poor, the dinner which she carried to school each day was not of the best quality. The schoolmates in question, at every chance, threw out insinuations which abashed Miss Kates so much that she would at noon each day retire to a fence corner in the vicinity to eat her dinner. About two weeks ago one of the two girls spoken of secretly went went to Miss Kates' dinner basket, and taking a biscuit therefrom, opened it and spit in it. Miss Kates discovered her in the act, and feeling that she could bear such treatment no longer, reported to the teacher how her mates had used her in the past. In consequence of this the two girls were expelled from school. This occurred in the afternoon, and the expelled parties, enraged at the treatment, laid in waiting along the road for the author of their trouble. When school was out and Miss Kates was passing by them, on her homeward journey, they assaulted her, one of them striking her on the head with a baseball bat, and the other, after she was down, jumping on her and breaking four of her ribs. After this brutal treatment the assailants went on their way. By some means Miss Kates got to her home, a short distance from where she was assaulted, but lived only long enough to communicate to her mother what had taken place. As the story is told, the parents of the girls went to the mother of the murdered child, and offered her $3,000 to do all she could to keep the affair from gaining publicity. The widow, it is said, accepted the proposition, but in the last day or two the affair has been exploded by school children who witnessed the assault, and in consequence the neighborhood is all excitement. Further developments will be promptly reported.

In reply to the advertisement of Mr. G.W.A. KILLED.

Harry Bremen, proprietor of the Bremen House, which blew down, was killed instantly. G. O'Donnell had his leg fearfully crushed. Jo. Holsher, feet smashed; Walter Vivian, not hurt, was frightened too bad to talk; H. Brown, slightly inju-ed. These were all taken from the wreck of the building which was a total loss. Bremer was the last taken out and was crushed all to pieces.

A large skylight blew off the butcher shop on the corner of Sixth and Washington streets and was smashed. Glass in the Masonic Temple was smashed. The Presbyterian Church spire blew down at 1 o'clock, falling across the porch of Sam. Smith's residence, smashing it to atoms. An immense crowd gathered and were so badly frightened they knew not what was the matter scarcely. The ornamental work on Mrs. Ellis' house was blown down. The skylight's in Howe's book bindery blew off. A house next to the Clarendon was blown down. Newmarket Theatre roof was blown off. A hotel near Burton House was blown down and demolished. A tree in front of Wass' residence fell against the building on the corner of Fourth and Oak streets. McCroken's fire-walls have blown off. The front of B. B. Aker's stable on Taylor street, between First and Second, has blown down. Signs throughout the city have been torn to pieces. A residence on the corner of Third and D streets caught fire, but was extinguished without loss. Sim Reed's new houses are all blown out of shape. Two windows in Mrs. Spaulding's room, North School, blew in and hung by the cords. It let in such a volume of wind in that it started a temporary partition about ten inches out of place at the top. The children ran out terribly frightened. No injury except one boy struck by a flying slate. The rear of Hight & Blockistone's shop on North Ninth and D street fell. Five men who were in the building escaped. Thomas Walker's house, on the corner of Seventh and Lincoln streets, blew down. Dolph and Bronaugh's new houses on the corner of Third and Grant streets blew down. The new sash and door factory on East Portland bank was leveled. People residing in the vicinity of Mt. Robinson were frightened most to death by the crashing and roaring of falling timber. Three large panes of glass in the west end of the Pavilion were smashed. The skylights of the Bee office have gone off on a bender and things are somewhat demoralized. A house on Sixth street, between Main and Madison, in which three families were living, was blown from its foundation and wrecked. The people in the house escaped uninjured. The boat belonging to the Stark street ferry route was dismantled and knocked to pieces Sam Smith's elegant mansion on Yamhill street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth, was wrecked. A tugboat was blown over and drifted down the river. The spire of the Church, East Portland, blew down.

The new Baptist Church in East Portland was demolished. The Court House roof is badly wrecked. The Masonic building roof is seriously damaged and a chimney blown off. One of the temporary windows is blown out of the Catholic Cathedral. Chimnies, trees, fences, etc., are torn down and demolished throughout the city. The old St. Matthew's schoolhouse on First street, near the end of the railroad, came very near being the scene of another ugly accident. Mrs. Simpson, the teacher, had just dismissed the children and barely got outside herself when the whole building was blown from its foundation and completely destroyed. A boat containing a man, woman and two children went down the river. The man lost his oars. Two men started in a boat to rescue them, but were capsized. We were unable to learn their fate. Several railroad bridges were demolished. Wadhams & Elliott's awning was torn down and front windows smashde. The ornaments on Capt. Ainsworth's house were blown away. The bell-tower at Four's engine house was blown down. The report which was flying around that the First street bridge had been blown down was a canard. Our reporter visited the bridge and found it safe and sound at 2 o'clock. The dwelling house formerly occupied by Mr. Mars on First street, near the bridge, was completely demolished at noon. Fortunately the family had just moved into another building and no one was hurt. The Condon building, at the corner of First and Lincoln streets, received some attention from the gale. The loss will be about $300. The South Portland Mill Company had the roof of their lumber sheds blown off. The roof of H. Perry's house, on the corner of Tenth and Hall streets, was unroofed. Every building in the city, brick, stone and wood, was shaken to its foundation. Railroad travel has been stopped. No trains to-day. The river was never known to be so rough; it was a solid sheet of mist at times and the waves ran like the ocean. The barometer was lower to-day than has ever been observed at this station. It is now rising and the worst is over. The storm at 2 o'clock reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, the highest ever known here. The smokestack of Molson & Son's brewery was blown down and badly wrecked. The roof of J. A. Stowbridge's residence was blown off. Thomas Freeman's new house on West Park and Jackson streets was blown down.

In the excitement of the moment one-tenth of the casualties that have happened cannot be furnished to-day.

THE GREAT PORTLAND GALE.

PERILS OF RAILWAY TRAVEL.

Frozen to Death.

[Special Correspondence of The Colonist.]

SEATTLE, W. T., Jan. 12th, 1880.

As I am just from Portland and thinking by some inadvertance you may miss your mail, which has just been brought here by the steamer Messenger, Captain Parker, I will give you a brief account of my experience within the few days last past.

Commencing with last Friday: At that time I was in Portland and witnessed the most terrific gale of wind that I can remember during my life. Though I have seen and felt the gentle zephyrs of the plains, I recall no time when Old Boreas was out on such a terrible spree as then. For several days prior to the gale the rainfall had been incessant and the Willamette river rose to an unprecedented height. That kind old instrument, the barometer, gave timely warning that "something was up" and coming with a vengeance. So the O. S. N. Co.'s people had properly secured all shipping of theirs and other marine property owners did likewise for themselves. About 10 a. m. on Friday the first puffs came snorting along, kissing the yellow waters of the Willamette and making them dance spasmodic jigs in rather an unseemly way. Sign-boards began a tattoo, glass went crashing, skylights sought rest in the streets and on the heads of unfortunate pedestrians; slate shingles off the postoffice cut erratic courses through the air; and from about 12 m. to 1 p. m. the music was in full blast and the gale stopped for nothing. Buildings crumbled and others blew away in shreds; steeples shook and rocked terribly, some went down, others were left like the tower of Pisa. Brick buildings trembled as though an earthquake was at work, and for the period of two hours destruction was the order. Great plate-glass windows gave way as though no obstruction at all. Standing in my room at the hotel I saw two buildings go to smash in East Portland. Trees went down in swaths. The sight was grand but terrific. Schoolhouses were blown down and only by the wisdom of teachers were the scholars saved. Buildings in course of construction were nearly all prostrated or thrown out of gear. The water of the river was driven into enormous waves, and at one time the air was filled with the yellow, driving spray for a height of 40 feet. A Chinaman was blown off the wharf into the river, but saved. Several white men were reported drowned, but there was no authentic information. A saloon came down on the head of its proprietor and crushed him in an unmerciful way. He was taken out alive, but died shortly after. At the time of the disaster there were about a dozen men in the saloon, but all escaped save the proprietor and one other, whom it was reported died that night. The signal office reported the velocity of the wind to be 50 miles, with spurts that reached 60 miles. Many disasters occurred, the particulars of which I did not learn. The Oregonian thinks the damage to property will amount to $75,000, but I think $40,000 will cover it in the city and immediate vicinity of Portland. The storm was not accompanied by rain or snow. Its cessation was as sudden as its commencement. No one seemed surprised or excited. All seemed to accept it as a "natural consequence" arising out of the vagaries of the elements of late.

Saturday morning there was about an inch of snow on the ground. The Willamette was receding and every one felt content, apparently. No news had been received at Portland of the snow storm on the Sound, and the passengers bound north felt badly when being informed after the train started from Kalama that they were likely to be snow-bound. Just as the train left Kalama the steamship Elder from San Francisco was observed proceeding slowly up stream in tow of a tug, evidently disabled. The first deep snow was met at Centerville, and from there to Tacoma there was much "bucking" into snow by the engine. Saturday the train got by Centerville, but had to put back that night to that town for food and shelter for the passengers, as there were no provisions on the train, which consisted of an engine and baggage car. Sunday morning the work commenced again and owing to the perseverance of the engineer, an old Minnesota man, and the conductor, Tom Hewitt, we managed to push through to Tenino that day, where we found Friday's train snow-bound and passengers and trainmen having lots of fun skylarking. They gave us a kindly reception as fellow sufferers, but took good care to rush to quarters, such as they were, little and big beds, soft floors and tables, and behind counters, at an early hour, so the new comers had to hang up as best they could. It was a long night. About 3 o'clock a.m. it commenced raining and by 8 a.m. the snow was softer, so when the two engines "joined hands" and went to "bucking" again we managed to get through at the rate of 12 miles an hour. About midway to Tacoma we met Gen. Sprague with two engines clearing the way and after that we made good time in to Tacoma, arriving there about 2 p.m. Monday. To relate all that took place would take too much space; but suffice to say that the efforts of the N. P. R. R. people for the safety and comfort of passengers were unremitting. We found a poor unfortunate man lying dead in the snow near Yelm station. The train was stopped and the poor fellow taken up and left at his house only a short distance from where he gave up the ghost. The snow in Tacoma is not so deep as at Seattle, where evidences of destruction are visible whichever way you look. I have never seen such a quantity and I have been in Maine and Minnesota during some of their worst winters.

Evidences of the wind storm are visible everywhere from the Columbia to the Sound. At Puyallup a young clerk in Meeker's store, hearing that a family living near by were in destitute circumstaces, started on Friday night with a blanket and some provisions for their relief. He was found on Saturday morning within 30 feet of the house he had started for frozen stiff. The Olympia and Tenino railway train with passengers and freight was snowed completely under and was abandoned, those on board seeking shelter in a frame house. K

We have been permitted to make the following extract from a letter received by Allen Francis, Esq., from his daughter, Mrs. Holmes, who resides at the corner of Seventh and Washington streets, Portland:

PORTLAND, Jan. 9th, 9 a. m.

* * * We are having a fearful gale of wind here; been blowing for the last half-hour a perfect hurricane. It has caused sad havoc in our neighborhood, blowing down fruit trees, window blinds and verandahs. It has broken in three of the largest windows in our house; blown off the tops of the chimnies. I am in hourly dread that the house will be blown down. The fences are all prostrated. I never experienced such a storm in Victoria; I thought it could blow hard there; but there is no comparison with the storm here to-day. I am in such a state of alarm that immediately I finish this letter I shall try and reach some of the neighbors.

The letter from which the above extract is taken was written at the commencement of the storm and mailed before its fury had culminated.

Municipal Police Court.

[Before Hon. A. F. Pemberton.]

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 14.

Jacob Williams was brought up for sentence for stealing two valises from the Oriental Hotel, Yates street.

His Honor said he believed the prisoner had pleaded "guilty."

The Sergeant of Police said that he had; and had also given information to the police as to where one of the valises could be found.

His Honor said he had taken into consideration the assistance the prisoner had rendered the police in the recovery of the stolen articles and would sentence him to only three months' imprisonment with hard labor.

In the case of the Chinaman charged with seriously injuring another Chinaman by kicking him about the body in a Chinese gambling den on Monday last, Mr. Eberts who appeared for the prosecution applied for a remand as his client was too ill to appear in Court.

His Honor granted the application and the prisoner was remanded until Monday next.

Sally, a Stickeen Indian, charged with biting the thumb of Mary, a Fort Rupert Indian, was fined $10, or in default 14 days' imprisonment.

Jimmy, a Tongas Indian, charged with assaulting Quin-H-w, being an old offender, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labor.

County Court.

[Before Hon. A. F. Pemberton.]

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 14.

Sparrow vs. Sutton—Judgment deferred till Friday next. Mr. Theo. Davie for the plaintiff and Mr. A. C. Elliott for the defendant.

Lomax vs. Bland—Adjourned till Tuesday next. Mr. Eberts for the plaintiff and Mr. Theo. Davie for the defendant.

Trehart vs. Sullivan—An action to recover $74.50 for lodging, liquors and cigars, $65.50 of the amount being solely for lodging. The defendant failed to appear and judgment was given for plaintiff for the full amount claimed. Mr. J. P. Walls for the plaintiff.

NEW WESTMINSTER ITEMS.—Complaints are made that the down mail left the city ten minutes after the up mail arrived, so that no opportunity was afforded the New Westminster people to reply to correspondence....Up to Sunday last the snow was some nine inches deep and the weather cold. On Sunday night the temperature went up and more snow fell. By Monday midnight there was nearly a foot and a half of snow, but a thaw set in soon afterwards. On Tuesday night snow again fell, but the weather continues to moderate....R. B. Kelly by a vote of 60 defeated T. Walsh (48) and A. Peele (33) for the Chief Engineership of the Fire Department. R. Thomas was elected Assistant Engineer by 70 votes to J. M. Wise's 69.

THE TAY BRIDGE.—The North British Railway Company have decided at a meeting of the board that immediate steps shall be taken to rebuild the Tay bridge. The wrecked train is rapidly disintegrating, and fragments of cars and pieces of apparel and luggage of passengers are rising to the surface. Numerous additional bodies have been recovered, and are in the morgue waiting recognition by their friends. In several cases recognition has already taken place, and the scenes in connection with them were very affecting.

AFTER MANY DAYS.—Mr. Roper has at last reached Ladner's Landing with the 140 head of cattle that were icebound about the first of last month in the steamers Reliance and Royal City. The trip down along the river banks has been one of the most dreary and perilous imaginable, but was accomplished with a loss of only three head. The cattle are consigned to J. Batchelor. The steamer Princess Louise leaves here at 8 o'clock this morning to bring them down.

BODY SEEN.—On the 13th inst. as two men in a small boat were rounding the point between Ports Gamble and Ludlow, W.T., they saw the body of a man floating in the water, but owing to a heavy gale that was blowing at the time they were unable to recover the remains, which are supposed to be those of Pilot Thompson, who was accidentally knocked overboard from a schooner a few days ago.

THE following passengers arrived here from the Mainland yesterday per steamer Princess Louise:—Miss Lenz, Miss Bruce, M. Lenz, R. Thomas, J. Crawford, J. Fannin, Capt. Jemmett, J. McCrimmon, A. McCrimmon, R. Harvey, Venner, J. Laidlaw, R. Duffy, W. R. Hull, W. J. Roper and R. Foster.

THE EAST COAST.—The weather at settlements on the east coast is about the same as at this city. At Maple Bay a large barn belonging to Mr. James Kier was crushed by the weight of snow and killed four head of cattle in its fall. Mr. Smithe's barns at Cowichan are reported in a critical condition.

STEAMER MOVEMENTS.—The steamer Empire will sail from the outer harbor at noon to-morrow. Mails and express will close at 10 a.m. Her next sailing day from San Francisco will be Saturday the 24th inst....Steamship Dakota will sail from Esquimalt on Tuesday at noon.

THE THAW would seem to be general throughout the Province, and it is just possible that livestock will escape the fate that seemed to be impending a day or two ago.

THE Reformed Episcopal Church Sunday School entertainment, which took place yesterday afternoon, afforded the pupils present several hours of genuine pleasure.

The Circulation.

TO THE PUBLIC:—Having allowed the sum of one hundred dollars to remain for the stipulated period of one week in the hands of the Irish Relief Committee without hearing from the publisher of the Standard, we now withdraw the same.

After this conclusive proof of the paucity of the Standard's circulation we hope that we shall hear no more boasting from that quarter.

In withdrawing from this controversy we would remark that should the publisher of the Standard, or any other person, during the next six months, feel disposed to wager any sum from $50 to $250 that the daily circulation of The Colonist in Victoria and Esquimalt does not exceed by 200 copies that of the Standard we shall be prepared to meet him. We have reason to believe that The Daily Colonist is circulated at the rate of three copies to the Standard's one to bona fide subscribers.

J. PARSONS,
T. ENNOR,
City Carriers of Daily Colonist.

Municipal Elections on the Mainland.

Following is the result of the elections at the various municipalities on the Mainland:—

NEW WESTMINSTER—Mayor—Mr. R. Dickinson, elected by acclamation; Councillors—St. George's ward, Messrs. H. Elliott, J. Howison and B. W. Shiles; St. Andrew's ward, Messrs. J. Hendry and W. J. French; St. Patrick's ward, Messrs. Hoy and Gray (by acclamation).

LANGLEY—Warden—A. Innes. Councillors—McIvor, Morrison, McKay, Norris, McKee, Geo. Towle, and F. Murchison.

RICHMOND TOWNSHIP—Warden—Hugh Boyd. Councillors—A. Kilgour, J. Smith, Steves, R. Woods, Ferguson and two others (all elected by acclamation).

DELTA TOWNSHIP—Warden—W. H. Ladner defeated J. Kirkland by 17 votes. Councillors—Messrs. Benson, Stinson, Pybus, Burr, Hunter, Page and Thompson.

SURREY TOWNSHIP—Warden—Mr. T. Shannon. Councillors—Messrs. Armstrong, Brown, Gray, O'Brien, Pickard, Johnson and Williams.

A Queer Bank Transaction.

The Ottawa Free Press says:—We learn that a certain bank in Montreal, which has been twice very near insolvency, gave a certificate to a firm of contractors for a section in British Columbia to the amount of $21,400. The contractors sold their privilege to a California firm for $100,000. Each of the contractors received about $8,000, and the cashier of the bank pocketed $20,000. As the whole transaction was consummated without the knowledge of the Board of Directors, the cashier was suspended on Monday. It is well known here that the negotiations for the purchase of sections "A" and "C"—those awarded to A. P. McDonald & Co.—was consummated at Montreal, and probably this gives a strong color of accuracy to the charge. However that may be, the amount stated as having been paid for the transfer is said to be over-estimated.

MARINE.—The bark California from San Francisco arrived in Royal Roads yesterday morning and was taken in tow by the steamer Pilot for Departure Bay to load coal for San Francisco....The bark Lady Head, bound for this port via Bowen's Island, was spoken by the British ship Eildenbrook, bound from Newcastle to San Francisco, on the 26th October last....The ship Belvidere has been chartered to carry coal from Nanaimo to Acapulco at £6....The bark Lily Grace (579 tons), recently at this port, is under engagement to carry merchandise from San Francisco to Callao at a lump sum....The steamer Etta White arrived in port yesterday morning from Burrard Inlet.

B. C. RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—The annual meeting of members of this Association will be held at Mechanics' Institute on Monday evening next, when questions of importance will be brought up for discussion. The Dominion Government has dealt somewhat generously in increasing the annual grant to the Association; but in view of the extra expenditure which will be necessarily incurred in sending two representatives to Wimbledon this year it is hoped that strong efforts will be made to supplement the funds of the Association by the individual efforts of its members.

NANAIMO.—The cargo of the steamship Hylton Castle consisted of 1700 tons of Wellington coal. On reaching San Francisco she will go into the dock and have her hull cleaned....In the wooded portions of the district snow is three feet deep. In the city heavy rains have decreased the depth materially....The body of a Chinaman killed by the dreadful explosion at the Wellington mine in April last, has just been recovered. It was found within 50 feet of the tenth level in a charred condition and covered with timber and debris....The net revenue of the city during 1879 was $5,194 and the expenditure amounted to $5,819.

POSITIVELY THE LAST APPEARANCE.—Owing to the storm no entertainment was given at Theatre Royal last night by Messrs. Thorn & Darvin, the great illusionists. They will give a matinee on Saturday afternoon which will positively be their last appearance and at which the spiritualists will again be exposed. Prices as usual; children 25 cents each. *

THE SMASHED CLOCK FACE.—The cost of repairing the Redfern clock should not fall upon the proprietor. Maintenance of the clock is a public benefit and its wanton destruction would be regarded as a public loss. The public should, therefore, replace the damaged dial with a new one.

BOARD OF FIRE DELEGATES.—At the meeting on Tuesday it was decided, on motion of Delegate Sylvester, to construct two horse-sleds on which the steam engines in case of deep snow may be dragged to a fire. The contract for sheathing the Union Hook & Ladder House was awarded to C. W. Jenkinson.

THE steamer Maude, from Nanaimo with the following passengers, arrived yesterday afternoon: Miss Lilley, Bishop Brondel, D. Alexander, D. Grandbois, P. Morin, J. Taylor, D. McLaclan, Chestnut. The snow is rapidly disappearing on the East coast and heavy rains prevail.

THE STORM AT SAANICH.—Fifty inches of snow fell at North Saanich. Two or three barns and stables were prostrated. Yesterday morning a thaw had set in and further damage was not feared.

DISSOLVED.—The law firm of Robertson & Johnson has been dissolved by mutual consent.

THE first meeting of the new Council will be held on Monday next—the day fixed by law.

Archdeacon Wright.

Mayor Turner has kindly permitted us to make the following extract from an interesting letter received by him last mail from the Venerable Archdeacon Wright:

GRAND HOTEL, San Francisco,
January 4th, 1880.

I have only time for a line. We had a trying passage for the first two days. The first night there was quite a gale and a sea struck the vessel so violently that for the moment she staggered. As we approached San Francisco the wind went down, and we arrived at the wharf just two hours under four days. The party on board was a pleasant one. Admiral Provost goes by Panama. I do not. My route will be via Ogden, Salt Lake City, Omaha, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. I assisted Bishop Kip this morning in the Church of the Advent and preached for him this evening. Fancy, after the service some of the congregation sent into the vestry a request that I would allow my sermon to be printed."

THE ice in the Fraser is breaking up and the river will be open again in a day or two. Snow fell heavily at New Westminster on Tuesday night.

Eviction of a Tenant near Balla.

The Sub-Sheriff of County Mayo, Mr. James C. O'Donell, accompanied by about 50 police, Major Ryse, R.M., and Sub-Inspector Pepper, went to Loonamore, Balla, and executed an ejectment decree for non-payment of rent on Anthony Dempsey and his family. Dempsey was a tenant of Sir Robert Brosse, and it was to protest against his eviction that the great meeting was recently held at Balla. Dempsey's family have but recently recovered from fever, and there was no notice that the eviction would take place. No disturbance occurred, but the movement of the police caused great excitement among the people. The only occupants of Dempsey's cabin when the police arrived were five little children, the eldest but seven years of age, their mother and Dempsey's mother-in-law, an old woman over 85 years of age. The bailiffs began the work by clearing the house of its occupants, afterwards proceeding to throw out and, it is stated, to break the house furniture with a sledge-hammer. When the family had been put on the roadside, a little boy, aged about four, began to scream, and dashed back into the house, despite the efforts of the evicting party to prevent him. He was at once turned out, but the little fellow made a frantic effort to get back, clinging to the wall until removed. The neighbours kindly made a proposal to Dempsey to shelter him and one of his family in some of their houses until he could find some place of abode for them; but the agent sternly informed them that Dempsey should not be admitted into any of their houses, but left to shelter on the roadside. Dempsey and his family therefore passed the day shivering in the cold. A small fire was built in the dreary bog alongside the bridge, and around it the family huddled. Late in the evening arrangements were, however, made by some of the charitably disposed inhabitants of Balla to convey the whole family to a lodging. The arrangement was to escort the Dempseys by a torchlight procession to Maclise's Hotel, Balla, where they are to remain until some pernament provision is made for them.

ELECTRIC LIGHT IN LONDON.—A circumstantial account of Edison's new electric lamp sent by cable produced fresh excitement. Gas shares fell in some cases 10 per cent., but have since mostly recovered. The British public thinks Edison cries "wolf" too often. Comparatively few timid holders sold out, and all their shares were eagerly bought up. The scientific opinion is incredulous. Electricians say that Edison has completely abandoned his original line of experiment, the failure of which was predicted at the beginning. No testimony of ordinary non-scientific observers will convince the the public here. It is reported that a new French invention for the production of electric light will shortly be made public. It is alleged that remarkable results have been attained.

IN modern times (with perhaps the exception of politicians) the best accepted word of two syllables commences with—Hum. It is warmly received under almost all phases of society because it is oblivious to sincerity and honesty which have become human weaknesses and without its ingredients. The last syllable is Bug. We have no affinity with the word, as proof of which we simply call attention to the reality of our preparations for the Christmas Holidays which have never been excelled in former years; the C. P. There is a wide-spread expectation that with the advent of Spring there will be a great business revival. Already we note the signs of preparation.

The old jogtrot style, "There is just so much to be done and its useless to try to do more," of big profits and small sales, has had its day, and the dispensation of small profits and quick returns has dawned.

To take advantage of the new order of things the White House has forwarded heavy orders for a complete assortment of goods for every department, and finding the present premises inadequate has concluded either to remove or enlarge.

To reduce stock, sweeping reductions will be made and big inducements offered for the remainder of the month.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff.)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July, 12, 1864.
The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousand of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.
CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.
CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—diphtheria, fever, croup, ague.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in diarrhœa, and is the only specific in cholera and dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of epilepsy, hysteria, palpitations and spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, cancer, toothache, meningitis, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.
From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay.—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."
Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports [December, 1865] that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.
Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."
See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug. 1, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.
CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr J. Collis Browne" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
Sole Manufacturer, J. T. Davenport, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, Victoria, 8th January, 1879.

To the Worshipful the Mayor and City Councillors:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting Statements of receipts and expenditure, cash assets and liabilities, and ledger balance sheet, I have to direct your attention in particular to the expenditure of 1879. This expenditure, embracing 13 months, includes outstanding accounts for December, 1878, and arrears of previous months, amounting in all to $7,022 37. The Corporation books now contain all known liabilities to 31st December, 1879, therefore, the present Statement shows 12 months' general expenditure and some arrears.
The excess of liabilities as shown on 31st December, 1879, in the Statement of cash assets and liabilities, being $5,138 25 only, and the excess of payments during the year $7,622 37, it follows that your affairs are in a sound condition, as without such payments there would be a balance in favor of 1879 of $2,484 16.
As the Cash Statement does not show the actual expenditure on many important accounts to the close of the year the following entries, taken from the transfers to close, will supply that deficiency, viz.:

Street Repairs	$17,136 56
City Police	9,087 47
Charges	5,152 61
Street Lighting, 14 months	2,836 52
Legal expenses	610 00
Water Works	16,222 15
	$52,954 92

The difference between the actual expenditure as above and the cash expenditure as shown in the Statement is $10,975 83, which will account for the bulk of the liabilities of the Corporation at this date (31st of December, 1879).
